Why this chapter matters: This closing chapter is the densest static-GK block of the entire series — it strings together Curzon's partition of Bengal, the extremist-revolutionary movements, Muslim League politics, Jallianwala Bagh, Khilafat, and every Congress session up to Independence. Treat this as your final master cross-reference: almost every name here connects back to something from Parts 5–7.

1 Phases of the Indian National Movement

Phase	Period (as framed in this lecture)
Moderate phase	1885–1905
Extremist phase	1905–1919
Revolutionary/mass phase	1919–1947

Note: Standard NCERT framing usually splits this slightly differently (Moderate 1885–1905, Extremist 1905–1917, Gandhian/Mass phase 1917–1947) — if your specific exam source uses different boundary years, go with your source, but the lecture's own boundaries above are what its questions test.

2 Curzon & the Partition of Bengal (1905)

Lord Curzon partitioned Bengal in 1905 — later widely regarded as the biggest blunder of his tenure, since it directly gave birth to extreme/militant nationalism. Announced around 16–20 July 1905 (sources vary slightly); took effect 16 October 1905.

- British objective: to suppress rising nationalism by dividing Bengal along communal/administrative lines (officially framed as "administrative convenience").
- Swadeshi Movement launched in direct response, on 7 August 1905, from Calcutta Town Hall, headed by Surendranath Banerjee.

WHO LED SWADESHI WHERE

Punjab: Lala Lajpat Rai · Bombay/Maharashtra: Bal Gangadhar Tilak · Delhi: Syed Haider Raza · Bengal (overall head): Surendranath Banerjee (also Bipin Chandra Pal, P.C. Roy).

Bengal's partition is remembered by two contrasting names: "Raksha Bandhan Day" (unity ties exchanged in protest) and "National Mourning Day" — both refer to the same 16 October 1905 event.

3 Annulment & Re-partition

Year	Event
1911	Partition annulled, announced at the Delhi Durbar during the visit of King George V and Queen Mary ; Viceroy at the time: Lord Hardinge (Hardinge II) , who also banned the practice of animal sacrifice in some regions
Dec 1911	Transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi declared
1912	Capital transfer historically effected; Bengal formally re-organised into three separate provinces — Bengal, Bihar, and Odisha (22 March 1912)

Odisha's Utkal Diwas is celebrated on 1 April — commemorating its separation as part of this same 1912 reorganisation of Bengal.

Lord Hardinge is also linked with wanting the wartime Defence of India Act to continue even in peacetime — a separate, often-tested detail.

4 Extremists & Revolutionaries 🔥

- "Father of Indian Unrest": Bal Gangadhar Tilak — the title comes from British journalist Valentine Chirol's book, Indian Unrest.
- Tilak's newspapers: Kesari (Marathi) and Mahratta/Maratha (English).
- Tilak was jailed three times: 1897–98 (first); 1908–1914 (six years, at Mandalay Jail, Burma — where he wrote Gita Rahasya); and again briefly around 1916–18.
- The theory of "Passive Resistance" was propounded by Aurobindo Ghosh — not Tilak, a common mix-up.
- "Sher-e-Punjab" (Lion of Punjab): most commonly Lala Lajpat Rai in the freedom-movement context (Maharaja Ranjit Singh also shares this epithet in a separate, earlier context).

Which method is NOT linked to the Extremists? The Swadeshi Movement — associated more with Moderate-era leadership (Surendranath Banerjee) — while bomb attacks, destruction of government property, and armed revolution are the Extremists' hallmark methods.

Revolutionary organisations

Organisation	Founded	Founder(s)
Anushilan Samiti	1902, Calcutta	Barindra Kumar Ghosh
Abhinav Bharat	1904	V.D. Savarkar (also wrote The Indian War of Independence, 1857)
Ghadar Party	1913, San Francisco	Lala Hardayal, Barkatullah Khan, Ram Chandra, Kartar Singh Sarabha, Sohan Singh Bhakna
Hindustan Republican Association (HRA)	1924	Chandrashekhar Azad, Ramprasad Bismil, Rajendra Lahiri, and others
Hindustan Socialist Republican Association (HSRA)	1928 (renamed from HRA)	Chandrashekhar Azad, Bhagat Singh, Sukhdev Thapar; "Socialist" added on Chandrashekhar Azad's suggestion; formed to avenge Lala Lajpat Rai's death

Key revolutionary incidents

Incident	Year	Key names
Muzaffarpur Bomb Case	1908	Khudiram Bose (hanged — the youngest person hanged in the freedom struggle) and Prafulla Chaki (died by suicide before arrest); bomb aimed at Judge Kingsford's carriage
Alipore Bomb Case	1908	Aurobindo Ghosh, defended by Chittaranjan Das (C.R. Das) ; after acquittal Aurobindo moved to Pondicherry and became a yogi-philosopher
Kakori Conspiracy	1925 (train action); trial concluded 1927	Ram Prasad Bismil, Roshan Singh, Rajendra Lahiri, Ashfaqulla Khan (first Muslim revolutionary hanged) — all four hanged; Chandrashekhar Azad escaped, famously declaring "I am free, and free I shall remain"; Bismil hanged 1927 at Gorakhpur Jail
Komagata Maru incident	1914	Gurdit Singh chartered the Japanese ship Komagata Maru from Singapore; 379 passengers denied entry at British Columbia, Canada; ship redirected to Budge Budge port, West Bengal; 18 killed when passengers were fired upon while disembarking

⚠️ Contradiction flagged

The lecture poses (and then itself disputes) a PYQ asking for the "most important reason for launching the Ghadar Revolution", with the expected answer being the Komagata Maru incident. This is chronologically inconsistent — the Ghadar Party was founded in 1913, a full year before the Komagata Maru incident (1914), so it cannot be a "reason for launching" something that already existed. Know the official PYQ answer for exam purposes, but recognise the logical gap.

5 Muslim League & Communal Politics 🔥

- Founded December 1906, Dhaka — key figures: Aga Khan (first president) and Nawab Salimullah Khan (Nawab of Dhaka); Jinnah joined much later.
- Headquarters: Lucknow (despite being founded in Dhaka).
- Simla Deputation (October 1906): A Muslim delegation, led by Aga Khan, met Viceroy Lord Minto (Minto II) demanding separate electorates for Muslims — directly leading to the League's formation two months later.
- Morley-Minto Reforms (Government of India Act, 1909): Introduced communal/separate electorates. First Hindu member appointed under this system: K.C. Gupta; first Muslim member: Syed Hussain.

Muslim League session	Year	President
First session, Dhaka	1906	Aga Khan
Allahabad session	1930	Muhammad Iqbal
Lahore session	1940	Muhammad Ali Jinnah

"Ambassador of Hindu-Muslim Unity": Jinnah was given this title by Sarojini Naidu — a striking contrast to his later role in Partition (recap from Part 5).

6 Home Rule League Movement (1916) 🔥

Region	Started by	Month, 1916
Bombay/Maharashtra	Bal Gangadhar Tilak	April
Madras	Annie Besant	September

Its major objective was a concrete plan for Swaraj (self-government). Its successful political demonstration is associated with the 1916 Lucknow Congress session — the same session that saw the Moderate-Extremist reunification and the Lucknow Pact with the Muslim League.

7 Rowlatt Act (1919) — "No Vakil, No Daleel, No Appeal" 🔥

Drafted by Sidney Rowlatt (committee formed 1917-18); passed 18 March 1919, enforced 21 March 1919. Nicknamed the "Black Act": it allowed arrest and up to two years' detention without trial, purely on suspicion — no lawyer, no argument, no appeal.

- Protest leaders in Amritsar: Dr. Satyapal and Saifuddin Kitchlew — protests began 6 April 1919; both arrested 10 April 1919.
- A suggestion for a "No Tax" campaign against the Rowlatt Act came from Swami Shraddhanand.

8 Jallianwala Bagh Massacre (13 April 1919) 🔥

After the arrest of Dr. Satyapal and Saifuddin Kitchlew, crowds gathered demanding their release. On 10 April 1919, a British missionary, Marcella Sherwood, was assaulted in a narrow Amritsar lane (about 180 metres long). This triggered the notorious "Crawling Order" — forcing any Indian passing through that lane to crawl on all fours.

⚠️ Two different men — don't conflate them

The lecture blends two separate British officials. General Reginald Dyer issued the Crawling Order and personally ordered the troops to open fire at Jallianwala Bagh on 13 April 1919. Michael O'Dwyer was the Lieutenant Governor of Punjab at the time — he endorsed and defended Dyer's actions from his post, but did not himself order the firing. They are two different people, and only O'Dwyer was later assassinated (Dyer had already died of natural causes in 1927, years before Udham Singh's act).

- Hunter Commission (British inquiry): estimated ~379 deaths; effectively let Dyer off with censure, sending him back to Britain rather than prosecuting him.
- Madan Mohan Malaviya's own inquiry: estimated over 700 deaths.
- Udham Singh assassinated Michael O'Dwyer in London on 13 March 1940 (not 30 March, as sometimes misquoted) in revenge for the massacre.
- Rabindranath Tagore renounced his Knighthood and Gandhi renounced his Kaiser-i-Hind title in protest.

PYQ: Who was assassinated by Udham Singh in London in 1940? Ans: Michael O'Dwyer (not General Dyer)

A much older, unrelated "black hole" incident

The Black Hole of Calcutta (Kala Kothri) incident, 20 June 1756: Nawab Siraj-ud-Daulah imprisoned 143 British soldiers in a tiny cell; only about 20 survived. Survivor John Zephaniah Holwell wrote an account of the ordeal. This incident directly preceded the Battle of Plassey (1757) and is unrelated to the 20th-century Jallianwala Bagh/Hunter Commission story — the two are separated by more than 160 years.

9 Khilafat Movement (1919–1922)

- Key leaders: the Ali Brothers — Maulana Mohammad Ali and Shaukat Ali.
- All India Khilafat Conference, Delhi, November 1919: presided over by Mahatma Gandhi, who supported the movement hoping Muslims would reciprocally join the Non-Cooperation Movement.
- Cause: the British sought to abolish the Ottoman Caliphate (Khalifa) position in Turkey after World War I; Muslims worldwide protested.
- Turkey was split into two parts by the British in 1922; Mustafa Kemal Pasha (Ataturk) became its new leader and formally abolished the Khalifa post in 1924 in exchange for a new constitution.
- Moplah Rebellion (1921), Kerala: a Khilafat-linked uprising by the Moplah (Kerala Muslim) community; Hindu landlords who tried to obstruct the movement were killed by rebels.

10 Non-Cooperation Movement — Session Details

Session	Year	President	Significance
Calcutta (special)	1920	Lala Lajpat Rai	Non-Cooperation resolution first proposed
Nagpur	1920	C. Vijayaraghavachariar	Congress formally adopted Non-Cooperation, December 1920

Movement started by Gandhi on 1 August 1920. During it, Gandhi promised "Swaraj within one year" — a promise later unmet, which he believed contributed to public frustration and, eventually, the violence at Chauri Chaura. C.R. Das (Chittaranjan Das) gave up his legal practice during this movement to become a full-time political leader.

Chauri Chaura incident: Gorakhpur district, UP, 4–5 February 1922 — a mob set fire to a police station, killing about 22 people (18 policemen burned to death). Gandhi withdrew the Non-Cooperation Movement on 12 February 1922 as a result.

11 Swaraj Party & Legislative Councils

- C.R. Das resigned as Congress president (after presiding over the 1922 Gaya session) to found the Swaraj Party with Motilal Nehru, who had opposed continuing Non-Cooperation given the rising violence.
- Government of India Act, 1919 (Montagu-Chelmsford Reforms) introduced bicameralism — a Council of State (upper house) and a Legislative Assembly (lower house).
- First President of the Central Legislative Assembly: Frederick Whyte; first Indian president, elected 1925: Vithalbhai Patel; first Muslim president: Yakub Ali.

12 Simon Commission (1927–1928)

- Formed November 1927; arrived in India 1928; 7 members (6 + chairman), headed by Sir John Simon — hence its name.
- Objective: review administrative reforms and reassess the 1919 Act.
- Visited Bombay (February 1928) and Lahore (October 1928); met with "Simon Go Back" protests everywhere, since it had no Indian members.
- During the Lahore protest, Lala Lajpat Rai was injured in a lathi charge on 30 October 1928; he died on 17 November 1928.
- Its findings became the basis for the subsequent Round Table Conferences and the Government of India Act, 1935.

Bhagat Singh founded the Naujawan Bharat Sabha in 1926, in Lahore — a youth organisation that fed directly into the HSRA.

13 Lahore Session (1929) & Purna Swaraj

The Purna Swaraj (complete independence) resolution was passed at the 1929 Lahore session, on the banks of the Ravi river — President: Jawaharlal Nehru; Vice-President: Subhas Chandra Bose. It was formally adopted as a pledge on 26 January 1930.

14 Civil Disobedience — Parallel Salt Marches

While Gandhi marched to Dandi, C. Rajagopalachari led a parallel salt march in Tamil Nadu: started at Tiruchirapalli (Trichy) on 13 April 1930, with about 170 people, ending at Vedaranyam on 28 April 1930, where the salt law was broken.

15 C.R. Formula (1944)

C. Rajagopalachari proposed the "C.R. Formula" (Rajaji Formula) in 1944, attempting to broker an agreement between the Congress (Nehru) and the Muslim League (Jinnah) — it ultimately failed to bridge their differences.

16 Indian National Army (INA) & Azad Hind Fauj

- First INA formed 1942 by Mohan Singh.
- Reorganised and led by Subhas Chandra Bose from 1943 as the Azad Hind Fauj, alongside a Provisional Government of Free India (Arzi Hukumat-e-Azad Hind), formed in Singapore, 1943, with Bose as its head.
- Brigades: Nehru Brigade, Gandhi Brigade, Subhas Brigade, and the Rani of Jhansi Regiment — an all-women's regiment.

Earlier government-in-exile: In 1915, during World War I, Raja Mahendra Pratap headed a provisional government of India formed in Kabul, Afghanistan — hoping Britain's defeat in the war would open the door to Indian independence. Note this is separate from Bose's 1943 government.

17 The Final Stretch to Independence

- Congress Socialist Party: founded 1934, within Congress, by figures including Jayaprakash Narayan and Ram Manohar Lohia.
- Flag Satyagraha: 1923, Nagpur — asserting the right to hoist the national flag.
- Manipur's accession: Maharaja of Manipur signed the Instrument of Accession to India on 11 August 1947.
- Direct Action Day: called by the Muslim League, 16 August 1946, demanding a separate Pakistan — led to the "Great Calcutta Killings": over 6,000 dead, 20,000+ injured.
- Mountbatten Plan (3 June Plan): announced 3 June 1947, proposing the partition of India; British PM at the time: Clement Attlee.
- Indian Independence Act: presented 4 July 1947, passed 18 July 1947, under Clement Attlee's government.
- Last Viceroy/Governor-General of British India: Lord Mountbatten.

22 Extra Practice (Beyond the Video)

E1. What is the correct distinction between General Dyer and Michael O'Dwyer?

Ans: Dyer ordered the Jallianwala Bagh firing; O'Dwyer (Lt. Governor of Punjab) endorsed it and was later assassinated — Dyer had already died naturally in 1927

E2. What was Madame Bhikaji Cama's popular epithet?

Ans: "Mother of Indian Revolution" (not "Constitution" — a common misquote)

E3. Where did Madame Cama first unfurl an early version of the Indian flag, and when?

Ans: Stuttgart, Germany, 1907

E4. Was Abul Kalam Azad's refusal of the Bharat Ratna permanent?

Ans: No — he declined it in 1955 while serving as Education Minister overseeing the award; he was posthumously honoured with it decades later, in 1992

E5. What was the National Council of Education (1906) a response to?

Ans: The Swadeshi Movement — it promoted indigenous, nationalist education as an alternative to British-run institutions

23 Bonus — Standard-Syllabus Points (Not in the Video)

Commonly tested alongside this closing chapter but not explicitly covered in the lecture. Verified against standard references.

- Government of India Act, 1935: Introduced provincial autonomy and an All-India Federation (never fully implemented) — the direct constitutional bridge between the Simon Commission and the 1937 provincial elections.
- Cripps Mission (1942) and Cabinet Mission Plan (1946): Both attempted (and failed) to resolve the Congress-League deadlock before Direct Action Day — useful bridge facts between the Quit India Movement (Part 7) and Partition.
- Aruna Asaf Ali: Hoisted the Indian flag at Gowalia Tank, Bombay, during the Quit India Movement, 1942 — a key "Quit India" fact not covered in Part 7 or here.
- Radcliffe Line: The boundary demarcating India and Pakistan, drawn by Cyril Radcliffe and announced on 17 August 1947 — the final geographic consequence of the Mountbatten Plan.
